Welcome to Southwestern Adventist University. We're glad you are making your temporary home with us in the various residence halls. We hope you will rekindle friendships, make new friends, become involved and prepare for a rich and rewarding year. Every community needs guidelines to ensure that it continues to function and be of maximum efficiency and comfort for all. Guidelines also exist to enhance our Christian life-style. With all the existing dynamics of a university campus, other guidelines help with the smooth operation of SWAU. Try to remember that policies, which sometimes limit you, may eventually benefit you, as well. We hope that you develop mature responses toward the following guidelines. Thank you for giving us the opportunity to serve you in various capacities.

As you make living arrangement plans for the school year, please keep in mind our priority will be to accommodate for the needs of our residents under the age of 23. If space and other residential life conditions permit we will do our best to house students over the age of 23. It is our recommendation, to those students who are over 25 years of age to look at off-campus, privately owned housing as your primary option. Please plan accordingly.

Campus

SWAU campus includes all property enclosed by the paved roads. Callicott Park, Bainum Field, Lakeview residence housing, the soccer field and tennis courts are also part of the campus.

Campus Security

A team of security officers safeguards the personal property of the campus. You are expected to cooperate if a security officer requests identification. All persons going and coming to and from the campus after hours are routinely checked.

Candles and Incense

The lighting and burning of candles, incense, potpourri or anything requiring an open flame is prohibited. A fine of $25 will be assessed for any resident participating in the burning of these items.

Check-In Procedures

Students check in to university housing at the respective dean's office. At the time of check-in, the student will obtain a Room Condition form and a Housing Information form. IT IS VERY IMPORTANT FOR EACH STUDENT TO ACCURATELY AND THOROUGHLY COMPLETE THE FORMS BEFORE SIGNING IT. Your signature on these forms is an acceptance of responsibility for the condition of the room, that your personal information is correct and that you acknowledge and accept the regulations and guidelines of the residence halls.

Check-Out Procedures

Room clearance and check-out are very important parts of your residence hall stay. Any time you are leaving the residence halls and are not returning, a room check-out is required. Check-out forms are provided by the resident advisor or the dean. A resident advisor or a dean will inspect each room and assess damages following each check-out. Failure to properly check-out, by not following established procedures, will result in a forfeiture of the housing deposit and/or a $25 charge. You should always check with your dean regarding specific questions on check-out. Any personal items left in the room at the time of room check-out will be removed by the residence hall staff. The residence hall staff does not assume liability for loss or damage of these items.

The only learning that really sticks is that which is self-discovered.

Christmas Break

The residence halls will be closed and unavailable for occupancy during Christmas Break from December 20, 2015 – December 29, 2015. Please plan accordingly as you will not be able to stay in the residence halls during this time. If you are having trouble finding housing during this time please speak to your respective dean(s) for assistance.

Deposits

Each resident must have paid a $100 room deposit prior to moving in. This deposit must remain on file throughout occupancy and whenever you have a room reserved.

Your deposit is forfeited:

- if damages/charges/fines need to be pulled from it
- if you check-out improperly or don't check-out at all
- in order to receive a refund of your deposit you must notify your respective dean by August 15 of the upcoming Fall Semester
- refunds upon leaving the university (and not returning) will be mailed to the address provided after check-out, minus any outstanding university and/or residence hall balance.

Devotional Life

We encourage each resident to have his/her own devotional life. The strength to live a Christian life is possible only through an ongoing relationship with God. Please remember that spiritual nourishment goes beyond public worships and Sabbath services. We would like to urge you to pray and study daily on your own. The Sabbath hours are especially sacred. Please help us maintain a spiritual atmosphere.

Discipline

Residence hall discipline will be administered as outlined in the Southwestern Adventist University Student Handbook. You are responsible for the choices that you make. Part of the residence hall staff's commitment to you is to hold you accountable for decisions and behavior based on Christian standards and the SWAU code of student conduct.

Dress

Please be certain that your style of dress represents Christian modesty. When in the lobbies and hallways please be fully dressed. Please remember that from time to time, members of the opposite gender will be working in all residence halls.

Campus (including off site university sponsored activities) attire excludes:

- Low cut (front or back) or strapless attire
- Bare midriff blouses
- Shirts that are sheer or any tight or loose clothing worn in a way that exposes undergarments or intimate body parts (back, chest, thighs, abdomen, etc.)
- Jewelry (with the exception of wedding/engagement rings)

On Sabbath, dress should be in harmony with the reverence due on the Sabbath. During all worship services come to worship respectfully, in fashion and attitude.

Non compliance with the dress code may result in fines and further discipline.

Electrical Appliances

Cooking in your room is permitted only with the use of microwaves, crock-pots, rice cookers, toasters, hot air popper and water heaters with concealed coils. Use extreme caution in the use of all appliances and store all food in sealed containers. Unapproved electrical appliances found in a resident's room will be immediately removed and a fine of $25 will be assessed.

Firearms and other Weapons

Firearms are strictly forbidden in the residence halls as well as elsewhere on campus. Possession of any weapon (including air-soft guns, BB guns, paint ball/pellet guns, bows, arrows, knives, or any other item that may be used as a weapon) will result in severe discipline, a minimum $100 fine and may result in removal from the residence hall.

A person commits an offense if the person intentionally, knowingly or recklessly possesses or goes with a firearm, illegal knife, club or prohibited weapon on the premises of Southwestern Adventist University, on any grounds or building; or on any public or private driveway, street, sidewalk or walkway, parking lot, parking garage or other parking area of Southwestern Adventist University.

“Puruant to Section 30.06 Penal Code (trespass by license holder with a concealed handgun), a person licensed under Subchapter H, Chapter 411, Government Code (handgun licensing law), may not enter this property with a concealed handgun.”

Any such offender will be prosecuted to the fullest of the law.

Fire Codes

Fire regulations require that all stairways and halls be free of obstruction. Fire drills are randomly conducted each semester. State laws require that all occupants of the building evacuate for drills. Tampering with fire alarms and surveillance equipment is illegal and will result in major discipline as well as a $200 fine plus cost of repair. Each room has a fire escape route map on the back of the door. Please do not remove the posted diagram and instructions.

Furniture

Furniture in each double occupancy room should include the following:

2 each ~ Beds/Chairs/Closets/Desks/Storage Cubicles

Removal of your assigned room furniture or addition of other residence hall furniture (i.e. lobby furnishings and accessories) without permission results in a minimum fine of $50. Do not leave any assigned room furniture in the hall at any time!

Gentlemen and Ladies

SWAU residence halls are not co-ed. Permission may be granted by a dean for visitation for various reasons and guests must be escorted by a dean or RA. Any SWAU student found in the residence hall of the opposite gender other than the lobby (including the basement) without a dean's permission will be assessed a $100 fine and may be immediately suspended for a minimum of three days.

Guests (Over Night)

Each guest must have a host and be escorted into and out of the residence hall he/she is visiting. Overnight guest(s) staying in your room must register in the dean's office. A $20 charge is made to you if your guest(s) stay(s) without making arrangements. Guests staying more than three nights will usually be charged a guest fee. Guests are expected to comply with the policies, rules and regulations governing the residential living areas. The host is responsible for his/her guest(s) behavior. Thank you for making appropriate arrangements for your visitor(s).

Health Services

Health Services provides assistance to students and staff who are ill or have minor injuries. The clinic is located in Harmon Hall. Please contact the switchboard operator to schedule an appointment. The clinic does have a stock of non-prescription medications and minor first aid supplies, all of which are available to you at no cost. If you are in need of a doctor or other off campus health care, the dean on duty can arrange appointments for you with a physician who will accept school insurance. In case of hospitalization, the university may notify the parent(s).

Ice Machine

A large ice machine is located in the basement of Harmon Hall. Male residents must secure permission from a dean on duty before obtaining ice from the machine.

Each laundry facility has an iron and ironing board for your convenience. Please do not take them out of the laundry facility. Be sure to turn off the iron when you leave. Ironing in your room is against Fire Code.

If you lose your ID card you will have to pay $5 to have your ID card replaced and $10 cash to have your ID card reactivated. Should your loss of key require putting in a new core, you will be billed $50 for the cost involved, plus the cost of a new key. We urge each resident to keep his/her room locked at all times.

Any student caught with a master key/master ID card, without proper permission, will be subject to a substantial fine, suspension and/or dismissal.

Kitchenettes

A kitchenette is available in Harmon Hall. Groups are permitted to entertain until 10:00 pm with prior permission from the dean on duty. An ID card is needed to use the kitchen facility. Your ID card will be returned to you upon cleaning and proper check-out.

Late Entrances

Each resident (under the age of 21) is allowed a total of three-1/2 hour late entrances per semester. Any resident who exceeds his/her three late entrances will be fined $25 on his/her fourth late entrance. Upon a resident's seventh late entrance an additional fine of $50 will be assessed. A meeting with the Deans' Council and if needed the Discipline Committee, will follow to determine a student's residence hall status with subsequent fines to be assessed.

Laundry Facilities

Laundry facilities are available for all residence hall students. Washing and drying is $.50 per cycle. Prices are subject to change. Please do not leave your laundry unattended. The university is not responsible for loss while using the washers or dryers. The laundry facilities are closed during the Sabbath hours.

Lobby Decorum

Thank you for practicing appropriate behavior in the respective common lobby areas. Common courtesy and respect for property, space and people is expected and greatly appreciated. Please do not use the lobby as a dining area, Cineplex, music hall, athletic venue, etc. Do not embarrass yourself, your peers, your guest or the residence hall staff by making it necessary for us to speak to you publicly.

Mail and Program Announcements

Mail will be distributed according to the respective residence hall distribution plan – mailbox or in person. Messages that are called into the dean, switchboard operator or monitor will be placed in your box or at the desk. It is wise to keep your mailbox closed. Your combination is available from the dean. Packages must be signed for by the resident it is being sent to and may be picked up in the dean's office.

Information for the various residence halls will be posted on the TV monitors in Harmon/Miller Hall lobbies giving you an overview of the events for the next week and where they will be held. Be sure to read it for all the announcements. You are responsible for all updates.

Noise

At some point, noise stops being a sound violation and begins to be perceived as lack of respect. Understanding this will help you to recognize it to be a serious issue in residence hall settings. When living in close quarters with hundreds of others, it is essential that each one's noise (including sound equipment, musical instruments, and voices of residents and visitors) "be heard only within your own four walls," not interfering with the study or sleep of another student. If you are frustrated with noise on your hall, we suggest approaching it in the following manner:

1. The student should make a reasonable effort to address his/her concerns and needs with the individual(s) involved. It is important for each student to always remember that he/she is a member of a community and that one's individual action affects others. To effectively remove conflict within the community, students must learn to accept responsibility for interacting with their community and its individual members.
2. A student must address his/her concerns to the residence hall staff. Although these staff members are assigned the responsibility for discipline and residence education, as a general rule, matters should be referred to them only after the individual has reasonably attempted to resolve his/her concerns.

Noise - Quiet Hours: 10:00 pm - 8:00 am

Quiet hours are the hours in which most students sleep or study, and quiet must be maintained to avoid intrusion to adjoining rooms or hallways. During quiet hours, students may not congregate in the halls or stairwells and must restrict all visiting to individual rooms or lobby areas. During quiet hours, conversations, stereos, televisions, and other activities should not be audible in the hallways and other public areas of the residence halls. During the week of final exams, Quiet hours are in effect 24 hours.

Overflow Housing

The university may contract with off-campus motels or off-campus properties to accommodate student housing needs.

1. Overflow housing will only be available in the event that all other university housing facilities are at maximum capacity.
2. Students assigned to overflow housing will be relocated to a residence hall as soon as space is available.
3. Students, age 23 or older, will need to find alternative housing until all students age 22 and younger have secured on-campus residence housing.

Paint

No painting is to be done in the residence hall rooms.

Parking

Parking in the residence hall parking lots is on a first come first serve basis. Overflow parking is available in the many parking lots around campus. If you have a car on campus you must register it with Campus Services to receive a parking permit valid for the current academic school year. All parking regulations on campus will be strictly enforced.

Pets

Only fish are allowed in the residence halls. Aquariums containing anything other than fish are prohibited. There are no exceptions to this policy. Pets other than fish found in the residence halls will result in an immediate $25 fine and an additional charge for the removal of the animal.

Pornography

Magazines, computers, posters and other sexually explicit items that contain pornography are inappropriate material. Offenders of this policy will meet with Discipline Committee and be subject to appropriate disciplinary action(s).

Public Display of Affection

Residents are expected to maintain appropriate decorum in all residence halls, lobbies and at all entrances, remembering that these are public places. Other residents should not have to pass by you and yours in a locked embrace or passionate kiss. Modesty, keeping personal things private and knowing how to be a responsible adult, are all appreciated and expected in terms of public display of affection. Some examples of inappropriate behavior would be: kissing, laying in laps, laying down on couches, etc...

Any staff member may address you if your behavior is inappropriate and may ask you to leave if no change is evident. The following are consequences for continued displays of affection.

- 1st offense- verbal counsel from residence hall staff
- 2nd offense- meeting with the dean on duty
- 3rd offense- appointment with the Dean of Students, plus banishment from lobby areas for an assigned amount of time

Repairs

Requests for repairs need to be reported to the dean on duty. If the dean is not available, please leave your request at the desk. Maintenance will do their best to have your repair fixed within a reasonable time period.

Resident Assistants

Resident assistants live on each floor/wing of the residence hall. A resident assistant is a peer-level academic advisor, informal counselor, program facilitator, disciplinarian and friend to the residents. Resident assistants are directly responsible for some programming, advising and governing for their floor, wing and/or hall. Resident assistants will do their best to assist you in various capacities. They will appreciate your cooperation in maintaining a positive atmosphere conducive to spiritual, social, personal and academic success. On occasion, a resident assistant will serve as the student dean on duty.

Rights of Access

When deemed necessary, the university and its delegates reserve the right to inspect your room, vehicle and/or belongings for illegal substances, cleanliness, issues dealing with fire and safety codes, repairs, guideline violations and in response to emergency situations.

Roommate Bill of Rights

Rooming with another person isn't always easy. Your enjoyment of life in a residence hall will depend to a large extent on the thoughtful consideration that you demonstrate to each other. We offer the following list for you to consider:

- The right to read and study free from undue interference in one's room; unreasonable noise and other distractions inhibit the exercise of this right.
- The right to sleep without undue disturbance from noise, guests of roommate, etc.
- The right to expect that roommate will respect one's room, facilities and personal belongings without pressure.
- The right to a clean environment in which to live.
- The right to free access to one's room and facilities without pressure.
- The right to personal privacy.
- The right to host guests with the expectation that guests are to respect the rights of the host's roommate and other hall residents.
- The right to settle conflicts. Resident advisors and deans are available for assistance in settling conflicts.
- The right to be free from fear of intimidation, physical and/or emotional harm.
- The right to expect reasonable cooperation in the use of the room telephone.

Room Care

You should keep your room in good condition and clean at all times. To foster good relations and mutual respect, roommates and suite mates share the responsibilities of bathroom cleanliness. All residents should establish a pattern of making neatness a priority. Extreme uncleanliness and poor hygiene habits will jeopardize your status as a student living in the residence hall. Rooms will be spot-checked for cleanliness, appropriateness and fire/safety hazards and changes and charges will be made and assessed as needed.

Room damages will be charged to the resident. Repairmen will be entering your room often to change filters or make repairs. After meeting a scheduled time, they are required to knock and announce themselves before entering your room.

The university cannot be held responsible for the loss, theft, or damage to student's money, valuables, or other personal affects, which might occur during a flood, fire, tornado, thunderstorm, or any other natural occurrence or unforeseeable mechanical failure. Please make sure that your parent's/guardian's insurance policy covers your personal possessions while at Southwestern Adventist University. Students are advised to purchase a renter's insurance policy, if parent's/guardian's insurance does not provide for coverage in the residence hall.

Room Changes

1. Students are not allowed to change rooms without verbal permission from a dean.
2. Room changes are not permitted during the first two weeks of the fall and spring semesters.
3. After the two-week period, residents wishing to change rooms must go to the dean's office to find out the proper room change procedure. All room changes must be completed within the third week of each semester.
4. Any student making a room change must be properly checked in and out of his/her respective room by a residence hall staff member in accordance with the check-in and check-out procedures outlined in the hand book.
5. Following the second week of classes, room changes will only be permitted when extenuating circumstances exist.
6. A student who changes rooms without express verbal permission from the dean will be assessed a $50 fine.
7. Every effort will be made to honor room change requests. However, changes can only be approved if all parties involved are willing and as space is available.

Room Check (for all residents, regardless of age)

Nightly room check will be between the hours of 11pm and 12am, Sunday night – Saturday morning. On Saturday evening/Sunday morning room check will begin at 1am. Your resident advisor must see you in order to be checked in. You will not be considered checked in until you are in the residence hall to stay. If you come in after the doors have been locked you must sign-in (regardless of age) with the desk monitor. You will be held accountable for your signature to acknowledge your time of return to the residence hall.

Room Consolidation

In order to ensure the maximum use of residential facilities and to respond to requests for private rooms, the university reserves the right to consolidate any student not wishing to pay the private room fee. A student residing in a room, without a roommate, after classes begin or after the official room change period is completed, will be given a choice to either pay the private room fee (for a designated single room) or to consolidate with another student needing a roommate.

Room Decorations

Your room will reflect your individuality and personality. We request that all decorations reflect Christian taste. Undesirable posters and other questionable decorative items may be confiscated. It is recommended that students use poster putty to hang items from their walls. Tape may be used, but is not recommended due to the difficulty of removing tape without damaging painted surfaces. Damage caused by nails, screws, tape, double-sided strips, etc. will be charged to you.

Rooms

Rooms in the residence halls are based on double occupancy. A resident rents only one half of the room: therefore, unoccupied spaces may be filled at any time. Providing there is space, you may elect to room by yourself. Rent for rooming alone is an additional fee per semester. The additional charge for a private room will be prorated if the student acquires a private room after the semester has begun.

Sabbath Conduct

Sabbath hours are to be respected by your conduct, personal appearance and the type of activity in which you engage. This includes shopping, visiting commercial/recreational areas, engaging in sports, wearing beach attire, sunbathing, studying and swimming. You are invited to attend Sabbath School and Church service.

Safety

Security is everyone's responsibility. Campus Safety officers provide valuable services to residents, helping in such diverse areas as reporting and investigating theft, providing security escorts and aiding in any emergency. Their role on campus is needed and deserves your cooperation and respect.

Safety Tips

Security policies are created out of concern for your welfare. You can help maintain your own safety by following all campus safety guidelines and by using common sense safety practices. Advance planning can help keep you and your belongings secure.

Safety at Night

- Go with someone (walking or exercising)
- Stay away from isolated areas.
- Try to stay/walk/park near street lights.
- Hold your purse tightly, close to your body.
- Dress sensibly

If you're being followed-

- Cross the street, change directions or seek a busier street.
- Keep looking back so the person knows you can't be surprised.
- Go to a well-lighted area, such as a store, restaurant, house, residence hall, classroom -- anywhere there are people.
- Notice and remember as much as possible about the person so you can give a description later.

If you're held up-

- Don't resist. No amount of money is worth risking your life.
- Notify Campus Safety or Keene Police immediately. Give description that includes approximate height, weight, and details on hair, clothing, jewelry, scars or tattoos - anything that is noticeable.

Where you live-

- Keep track of your keys.
- Don't let strangers in.
- Don't leave doors unlocked even for short periods, even for someone coming by later or for a roommate who has lost her/his key: Why put your belongings at risk?
- Keep blinds/shades pulled at night.
- Don't identify yourself on your answering machine.

Protect personal (body and belongings) and university property-

- Lock the door if you're the last person out of a room.
- Engrave valuables with your driver's license number.
- Never leave belongings unattended in laundry rooms, library, hallways, classrooms, etc.
- Lock bike securely on bike rack.
- Don't keep large amounts of money in your room: Open a local bank account.
- Keep personal papers and valuables locked in a safe place. Even in your room, don't leave your wallet out in plain sight.
- Pick-up brochure on how to purchase renter's insurance at the Dean of Students office.
- No boxing or fighting of any kind is to take place in the residence halls.

In a vehicle-

- Keep doors locked while driving and lock valuables in trunk.
- Don't hitch-hike or pick up hitch-hikers.
- If car is disabled, remain in car with doors locked and open the door only for the police.
- Park in well lighted areas and remember where you park!
- Before breaks, don't pack your car until you're ready to go.
- Always lock your car and take the keys!
- Have keys in hand as you approach the car/parking lot.
- If you are out with a person who is not treating you with respect, don't put up with it. Call the dean on duty from a gas station or store and the dean will gladly send someone to get you.
- Make it a rule to never go out without a credit card or enough cash to place a phone call, just in case you need to call for help.

Sick Trays

If you are on the sick list, you must notify the dean on duty and/or the residence hall nurse to receive a sick tray. The dean on duty or residence hall nurse must call the café and the ID card of the student who is sick must be shown at the cafeteria.

Signing In

When you return to the residence hall (after the doors have been locked/after room check has been taken) you must sign-in with the desk monitor. Failure to sign-in, failure to return to the residence hall after curfew times and/or failure to make proper pre-arrangements will result in late-leave consequences and/or immediate discipline.

Stealing

Protection against stealing is a serious challenge for an institution in which hundreds of people reside closely in a relatively open manner. You should take precautions to protect your personal belongings. Put your name on your personal property. Keep your serial numbers in a separate location and check to see if your parent's homeowner's insurance covers your belongings while at school. If not, consider purchasing a policy on your own (forms are available at registration). Individuals caught stealing will be disciplined immediately and be subject to suspension and/or dismissal.

Substance Abuse

A resident possessing alcohol, drugs or involved in drinking alcohol or using an illegal drug, including tobacco will be required to meet with the Discipline Committee. The residence hall staff reserves the right to administer the Digital Alcohol Detector test when deemed appropriate. The residence hall deans also reserve the right to administer random drug screens as well as searches using drug sniffing K9 units, both inside the residence halls and in the university parking lots. Result of such screenings will be used as a determining factor for continued residency and attendance at Southwestern Adventist University.

Surveillance

Security cameras are used in the common areas of the residence halls for the safety and protection of the residents. There are signs posted in the residence halls alerting residents as to the whereabouts of the cameras. In accordance with state and federal laws; all recorded activities may be used to aid in the prosecution of any crime committed against university facilities, students, faculty and staff.

Weekend Leaves

Overnight or weekend leave requests are due in the dean's office by Friday noon or 24 hours before you leave.
